SHOW UP THE EX-KAISER

Was Faring Sumptuously Every Day —Alleged to Have Systematically Robbed the German Nation Several Months Before His Flight.

London, Nov. 27.—William Hohenzollern, ex-Kaiser of Germany, systematically robbed the nation for several months before his flight, declares Neue Leipziger Volks-Zeitung. It says:

"When the Kaiser fled from Germany he took not only personal property of his own, but also gold, silver and securities belonging to the nation. For several months before his flight, while he was expressing liberal sentiments, the Kaiser was sending treasure to neutral countries, insuring its passage by fraud at the customs department."

London, Nov. 27.—"Grossest hypocrisy," is the brand the Berlin Tageblatt puts on the Kaiser's pretence of sharing his people's hardships.

To prove its charge the Tageblatt reproduces two menus at headquarters, one for September 3, with the following comment:

"September 3. the lunch was as follows: Fish patties, partridge and apple jelly; Vienna pudding, dessert.

"Dinner: Crayfish, rice, partridge, salad, egg cake, friut. The Kaiser was away on Septemebr 3. When he was present a still richer dinner was served. A specimen menu being: Soup, roast tongue, partridge and apple jelly, salad, asparagus, compote of peaches and dessert."

London, Nov. 27.—The allies have the right to demand the surrender of William Hohenzollern and others responsible for the crimes of the war.

Rulings to this effect have been made both by the Lord Chancellor and the Attorney General, according to the Evening News. An Anglo-French legal committee is now working on the question.

GRAND THEATRE

Everybody's favorite, Shorty Hamilton, will appear in his latest screen offering entitled "The Ranger," at the Grand tomorrow, and the many admirers of this popular little screen star will see him in the most pretentious offering of his professional career.

The story has a war flavor and deals with the activities of German spies operating from across the Mexican border line. There are many thrilling situations with Shorty prominently active. The holding up of a mail coach, the tracing and arrest of German spies, the hanging of the leader of a band of road-agents, a clash between a group of Texas Rangers and Mexican bandits are a few of the exciting episodes shown in this remarkable picture—with a delightful love story dominating all and ultimating in a novel and particularly effective finale.

Dr. Cook sang beautifully which added to the interest. He has been requested to sing again tonight. All Baptists who have recently moved here are cordially invited to add their influence in the work of the First Church, by joining it.

THANKSGIVING APPEAL FOR ALEXANDRIA HOSPITAL

The friends of the Alexandria Hospital, now that the season of Thanksgiving approaches, are earnestly solicited to remember to send donations of money, groceries, provisions of all kinds, preserves and jellies in short any and everything that can be made of use in our institution.

The hospital has for its constant aim the furnishing of the best attention to the sick and suffering at as small expense as possible, and if need be, to give this service gratis.

Each year a large number of patients are treated gratuitously, but it is only through the hearty co-operation of its many friends that its measure of usefulness has been so large. This fall especially we have had an unusual number of poor and suffering. Let us then hear from you on Thanksgiving Day; send your donations as God has prospered you, or come to the hospital with hands full of gifts and see for yourself what your co-operation enables us to do, remembering too that "God loves a cheerful giver."

A committee of ladies will be at the hospital all day on Thanksgiving to receive donations and also to escort any who desire to inspect the building.

By order of the Board of Managers.

FUTURE OF GERMANY

Guilt of Men in Power in 1914 Clearly Shown—Berlin Said to Have Incited Vienna—Kaiser Pronounced a Liar And His Trial Demanded

Amsterdam, Nov. 27.—The conference of representatives of all German states at Berlin adjourned yesterday after deciding upon the convocation of a constituent assembly to be held at Frankfort-on-the Main at the earliest possible date. That assembly is to decide the future of Germany. It is to determine whether there shall be one great republic of Germany absorbing the various former kingdoms, grand duchies, free cities and principalities as "federated states" similar to the United States, or whether the various newly-formed republics shall continue as such but form a great federation of republics.

A dispatch from Berlin says the conference went on record as demanding trial of the ex-Kaiser in Germany.

If the moderates have their way Germany will emerge from the war and revolution a federated republic much like America. If the radicals under Liebknecht' leadership win out, the former empire will become like Russia, a vast network of Soviets.

Vorwaerts, the Chancellor's mouthpiece, has begun a campaign to expose the war intrigues of the German government. No incriminating documents appear to have been found as yet in the archives of Wilhelmstrasse, but disclosures made by the new Bavarian government regarding the circumtances leading up to the war tend strongly to show the guilt of the men in power at Berlin in 1914.

"The facts are," says Vorwaerts "that Berlin incited Vienna. Wilhelm said the enemy attacked us. That is an infamous lie."

Sentiment appears to be crystallizing throughout Germany for the prosecution of the ex-Kaiser and his henchmen. Members of the old regime are reported fleeing from Germany by the dozens. The Socialist organs demand that Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the former chancellor Dr. von Jagow, exforeign minister and his successor, Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, be sentenced as traitors.

FOR MEN IN UNIFORM

Oyster Supper And Dance at War Camp Community Service Club Tomorrow Night—Supper at 6 P. M. And Dancing at 8 P. M.

The War Camp Community Service will give an oyster supper and dance for the men in uniform at its club on Prince near Royal streets Thanksgiving night, The supper will be served at 6 o'clock and dancing will be at 8. Judging from the large and enthusiastic attendance at the regular dance given at the War Camp Community Service last Saturday night the men hail an opportunity to attend these functions with a great deal of delight especially since these dances are attended by so many of the city's best young ladies under the able chaperonage of Mrs. Carroll Pierce. The usual dance will be given in the hall on Saturday night, November 30. The War Camp Community Service sleep quarters were occupied to capacity last Saturday night and have been made exceedingly comfortable by the addition of mattresses and sheets in connection with the cots and blankets and the men expressed themselves as having all the comfort of home and very gladly paid the small twenty-five cents for their use, which will about take care of the laundering of the linen. The Sunday morning breakfast was served by the Women's Committee from Christ Church and about one hundred of the men thoroughly enjoyed the excellent repast.

A committee from Christ Church, with Miss H. N. Cummings, chairman, has arranged an elaborate party in the Parish Hall for tomorrow evening. These arrangements will provide enjoyment for those men who will not take part in the dance at the War Camp Community Service Club, though all of the men visiting the city on Thanksgiving will be welcome at the supper at 6 o'clock at the hall. All of these activities are free to the men in uniform.

RICHMOND THEATRE

It may interest you to learn that Bryant Washburn, one of the most popular and talented screen players in the country, is now a Paramount star and that he will be seen in his first starring vehicle, "The Gypsy Trail," at the Richmond Theatre tonight.

The story deals with the love affairs of a good young man who lacks assertiveness; a romantic conventional young woman who belives in "Lochinvar" methods of love making, and a nomadic young Irishman who travels "the gypsy trail" because it makes him happy.

There is a strong story relieved by wholesome comedy, and the situations are unusually thrilling. Mr. Washburn is supported by beautiful Wanda Hawley and other excellent screen players.

If you desire to grow fat and live long—laugh every chance you get. That is the philosophy of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, who will be seen in his latest mirth-provoker, "The Cook," which will be an extra attraction tonight.

ARRIVES UNHERALDED

Parents Go to Visit Son in Boston and Son Arrives Three Hours After Their Departure

When Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Richards learned of the arrival of the U. S. S. Kearsage in Boston they at once set out for that city to visit their son, Burton Richards, who has been on that ship for some time past. The couple departed at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Their son, however, in the meantime secured a seven days' furlough and he wanted to come home to visit his parents. He arrived in Alexandria unheralded. This was just three hours after his parents had departed for Boston. Matters soon were adjusted when a telegram was dispatched to them which intercepted them in New York. The parents immediately returned to Alexandria and a family reunion followed.

HUN GUILT IS PROVEN

Bavaria Makes Scathing Revelations of Germany's Position in Precipitating the Late War—Comments of Prominent English Newspapers.

London, Nov. 27.—Germany sinned as a whole, fought and was beaten as a whole, and as a whole must suffer is the opinion of the English press. This feeling has been intensified by the Bavarian revelations of Germany's part in starting the war, contained in Count Lerchenfeld's telegrams to Count von Hertling in 1914.

In commenting on the revelations the London Times says, in part:

"On July 28, 1917, we were able to give a detailed account of a meeting July 5, 1914,' which was referred to a few days earlier in the Reichstag by Herr Haase. The narrative communicated to us states that on this date Emperor William and his advisers discussed the main points in the ultimatum to Serbia recognized that its delivry meant war with Russia and definitely resolved to face this consequence, which also, of course, meant war with France. The story was indignantly denied in Germany . Now we have its main points established by documentary evidence published on the authority of the new Bavarian government. It will be interesting to see whether the new Berlin government will complete the tale.

"Germany has been challenged again and again to produce the correspondence between that capital and Vienna for the whole of July, 1914. She has never dared to produce it. Will the new government dare—just to show the great gulf between them and their predecessors and to exhibit their disapprobation of 'secret diplomacy?'

"These very revelations, themselves, show that Bavaria was the accomplice of Vienna and Berlin. She knew their infamous plea and she supported it until it failed. She will not whiten her character in the eyes of the allies by publications blackening the character of her confederates. The pretence that the people did not support the policy of their government is even more hollow in the case of Bavaria than in that of the northern states. They had more liberal institutions and more political power. If they condemned war why did they never utter a word of protest until they and the other Germans found themselves beaten?

"As to the internal German policy that is the affair of the Germans. The Tribes' must settle their relations with each other and with any central authority they may set up. * * * Germany sinned as a whole. She fought as a whole and she has been beaten as a whole. She will have to negotiate as a whole and submit as a whole to the terms dictated to her."

The Morning Post says the revelations confirm the fact that every detail had been arranged for provoking the conflict which Germany has repeatedly declared was forced upon her and that Dr. Solf, German Foreign Minister, in his appeals for modifications in the conditions of the armistice, is following exactly the same diplomatic tactics as those disclosed in Count Lerchenfeld's telegram.

YANKS TO DRIVE TRUCKS.

The Postoffice Department is ready to take the Yank who has been piloting a motor truck over shell holes in France and give him a job at $4 a day in his home town.

Of the plans and schemes for so-called "reconstruction" in which use for army men and equipment is proposed, the Postoffice Department's plan alone, probably, is complete and ready to be put into immediate operation.

Under the army appropriation bill army motor trucks, at the discretion of the Secretary of War, are to be turned over to the Postoffice Department to be used in broadening the parcel post and city delivery service.

EMPLOYMENT OF MAIMED

Labor Commissioner Hirschberg Asks Manufacturers to Advise Him as to Class of Men They Can Use to Mutual Advantage.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 27.—When the victorious soldiers return from France, there will be many of the men who will come back with one arm, one leg, one eye and a few of them with both legs and both arms gone, some totally blinded. The real battle of life will then face these men. True, the government will pay them a sum in the way of pension, the insurance they have carried. The bulk of these men, however, will not be content to sit down and wait for some one to feed them, clothe them and provide shelter. They are too many to do that.

To provide work for these men is the task that Labor Commissioner John Hirschberg has set for himself. He is asking now that all manufacturers who can use maimed men to make known that fact to him that he may have employment for them when they come back and seek work. He has sent out letters to all the larger manufacturers and others who employ labor, asking them to make up their lists. Many have done so. He is seeking to get a list of every enterprise in the state that can give such maimed men work of any sort to specify and to let him have the same ready when the men have sufficiently recovered to enter on their tasks. Many of these will prefer to work in their own neighborhoods.

In order to get the full information on the subject Mr. Hirschberg has prepared the following blank form for every person who may need this kind of help to fill out and mail to him, giving the number desired.

Name of concern.
Location
Character of business.
Number of men desired who have lost right hand, lost left hand, lost right arm, lost both arms, lost right foot, lost left, foot, lost right leg, lost left leg, lost both legs, lost both eyes, suffering from shock or other disability.

In undertaking to supply the men desired there will be no charge whatever, the labor department engaging to do this for the benefit of the manufacturers and for the benefit of the soldiers. Fuller information can be had on application to John Hirschberg, Labor Commissioner, Capitol Building, Richmond, Va.

THANKSGIVING STRIKE

New York Eating Places Receive Waiters' and Cooks' Ultimatum.

New York, Nov. 27.—Waiters and cooks employed in 150 New York restaurants and affiliated with the International Federation of Hotel and Restaurant Employees, yesterday demanded immediate increases of $4 and $3 a week, respectively, and threatened a general strike in event of refusal.

Anticipating a walkout, the men arranged a parade on Thanksgiving morning and the police issued a permit, bearing the warning: "No red flags." Otto Wagner, secretary of the union, said it was not planned to "to force the public to go without their Thanksgiving dinner" and that if the strike was called only those restaurants refusing to payy the increase would be affected.

OUR NATIONAL THANKSGIVING

Lots to be thankful for at best,
In this dear land of toil and chance;
Lots to make glad the human breast,
And lots to sing for and to dance;
And now more thankful than we know
Our hearts that beat with joy
That some time sooner than we know
We're going to see That Boy!

Tomorrow will be a notable Thanksgiving Day in Alexandria as well as in every city in our country. This day of national rejoicing and thanksgiving for many years but partially observed in some parts of North America, will this year be an occasion of rejoicing from the Arctic to the tropics. The churches of Alexandria will enter into the spirit of the occasion, and large congregations are anticipated.

While we at all times have much for which to be grateful, Thanksgiving Day of 1918 should especially appeal to us, as the victory of the allied armies over the forces of autocracy are still fresh in our minds. The great generalissimo of the civilized world is a believer in prayer, and his applications as well as ours have been answered.

In the wilds of New England while the descendants of the Pilgrim Fathers were gathered on Thanksgiving Day in their places of worship, made of logs, they were occasionally surprised by hostile Indians. It is said that the worshippers generally started up that good old hymn, "Come Thou Almighty King" and the worshippers were saved in some way from slaughter, the Saviour making good His promise to be present when two or three are gathered in His name.

While the Germans with a preponderance of men were making their terrible drives last spring and summer Foch was praying, passing about an hour each day in some nearby church. He would arise with the premonition "They shall not pass," and they did not.

Even the least religious will need very little urging to feel thankful tomorrow, and that whether there is turkey for dinner or not. We'd be an inexpressibly ill-mannered and scurvy lot if we were not inclined to say "Thank You!" from the depths of our souls.

As a contemporary says, "the best thing that ever happened in secular history has happened this year, and ingratitude would be monstrous, if not criminal. Only an idiot or an animal could remain indifferent to what has come to pass. A rescued world is bound to kneel and recognize its deliverance from the blackest flood of woes that ever rolled over our civilized nations.

"We can realize more keenly the extent of our obligations to the unseen Director of events, if we recall what seemed likely a few months ago to develop into a horrible reality. If anything had prevented our reaching France in time to aid in beating back the German offensive, this Thanksgiving Day might have been a day of mourning and apprehension. At best, it would have been a day of clouds of anxiety, of stern preparation for greater effort.

"How better are the actualities of this Thanksgiving than most of us had dared to hope. The improbable, the seemingly impossible is the real; for sooner than we had dreamed we have come out of the night of agony and blood into the light and reassurance of peace. Thankful? How can anybody help saying at least one little word of thankfulness on the 28th of November?"

While we are voicing our thanksgiving William Hohenzollern, who brought so much woe upon the world, is brooding in Holland. He is an exile from his own land, and his conscience, that witness of God in the soul, which cannot be bribed, is his tormentor. The following lines are pertinent:

He fell because the wrong must die,
He lost because the wicked must.
He's seen his hopes and fancies fly,
His dreams are in the very dust.
He weeps because it had to be.
He trembles, weary and alone;
His navy drifts upon the sea,
The earth is rocking 'neath his throne
He saw his empire pass away,
He watched his earthly power go,
Because when justice has her Day
The sword of wrong is beaten low;
And when the sun of right comes o'er
The shallows of the mighty hills,
The kings that wage a dastard's war,
The kings that breed a thousand ills,
Must blow and pass and be forgot,
Must tremble and bow down in dust—
For such has ever been the lot
Of greed and wickedness and lust.

BALLIN'S FORESIGHT

Prince Lichnowsky has complained that the armistice terms were dictated by a spirit of revenge. But a juster view of them was taken by the late Albert Ballin. It is admitted that Ballin committed suicide, and this supports the story of his letter to Dr. Hahn, edior of the National Zeitung. The latter dispatch tells the story of a stormy interview he had with Ludendorff and afterward with the Kaiser, in the course which he is said to have told the Kaiser: "Unless we are on decent terms with England Germany cannot live."

Attention is directed by the Philadelphia Record to the fact that this is the substance of the declaration of the commercial congress at Hamburg early in the summer, at which Mr. Ballin was the moving spirit, and the substance of whose communication to the Government was that it must obtain peace on terms which would enable German industry and commerce to live. Ballin knew the world outside of Germany; he had tried to dissuade the Kaiser from the war. In his interview with the Kaiser in October he is said to have suggested the danger of a revolution on account of the growing discontent, but the attitude of the Kaiser was such that Ballin left the meeting a broken man, and he was unable to survive the terms of the armistice and the ruin of German commerce which he had done more than any other one man to develop.

In his letter to Dr. Hahn he is represented to have said that the armistice terms were more moderate than Grmany had a right to expect. "We need only think," he said, 'what our terms would have been had we been the victors. We would have demanded the occupation of Paris and London. We would have dictated peace at Buckingham Palace and annexed the entire Continent from the Ural Mountains to the Bay of Biscay."

Mr. Ballin knew his own country, and he knew the rest of the world. He knew what war with England and America meant. He saw the hopelessness of the struggle in October, and he saw the revolution coming. The prospect, and the attitude of the Kaiser, were more than he could endure. He is dead, and the Kaiser who would not listen to him is a fugitive.

FRENCH AT STRASSBURG

The French tri-color flutters from the citadel of Alsace, ancient fortress of Strassburg, dating from the time of the Romans. At the head of the French fourth army, amid a furore of enthusiasm on the part of the populace, Marshal Foch, King Albert of the Belgians, and Generals Gouraud and Petain entered the historic town on the Rhine yesterday through the famous Schirmock gate.

French advance guards had posted a proclamation by General Gouraud in the city, beginning with the words

Service at Your Church Tonight

"WHAT SORT OF CHURCH WOULD MY CHURCH BE, IF EVERY MEMBER WERE LIKE ME?"

COME AND BRING ANOTHER - - 8 P. M.

of the "Marseillaise," "The day of glory has arrived."

"Such a spectacle repays all our sufferings," said the famous colonial veteran after entering the city and beholding the multitude of wildly cheering men, women and children. He proudly led his poilus through the new German built part of the city into the old French part overlooked by the spire of the superb cathedral. In front of the ancient edifice he joined Marshal Foch, King Albert and General Petain, all riding magnificent thoroughbred chargers. Women, weeping with joy, held up children to kiss the drapeau placed on the statue of Marshal Kleber. Practically all of the city's 30,000 inhabitants turned out to welcome the liberators.

THANKSGIVING, 1918

Thankful this year for all the former things—
For the good fields that were not tilled in vain,
For harvest home and golden garnerings,
And sun and wind and rain;

For health, and hope, and labor late and soon,
And all the beauty that the seasons bore—
Then at the last for that most shining boon,
Peace on the earth once more!

We had not known until we lost it, Lord,
What prize we held in child-like, happy hands—
Not till the guns spoke and the unsheathed sword
Leapt out across the lands.

But now we know. . . The battle mists divide,
The guns are mute, the bugles soaring play;
We bow as humbly, yet all glorified,
Our gratitude to pay.

Thankful for dear reunions, swift and sweet,
For laughter breaking clearly after pain;
Thankful for music of returning feet,
And voices heard again.

And proudly thankful also, loving God,
For gallant feet we may not welcome home,
That late an unreturning journey trod
So peace might surely come.

Thankful for courage in the face of doom,
Thankful for strength when human strength was past,
For faith well kept, for guidance in the gloom,
For victory at last!

Shaken and thrilled after the smiting years
We make the old blessings in the old glad way,
Then lift our strange new thanks with tender tears,
This new Thanksgiving Day!

HEBREW MASSACRES

Cellars Reported Filled With Bodies, While Synagogues Are Looted.

New York, Nov. 27.—Reports of wholesale slaughter against Hebrews at Brzsko, Galicia, where cellars are reported filled with bodies and many Hebrews attempting flight have been shot down in the streets, were received from Copenhagen Monday by the Zionist organization of America.

At Przemysl, the report added the Polish Legion looted all Hebrew shops and homes, disarmd Hebrew militia, invaded synagogues and sullied the sacred scrolls of the law.

Adolph Boehm, member of the Jewish national council at Vienna, wired the organization that Bohemia is "mercilessly deporting" refugees of Galicia who sought refuge in that country.

CRUELTY OF BULGARIANS

Deported Greeks Subject to Torture and Even Put to Death.

Saloniki, Nov. 27.—The Bulgarians during their occupation of Eastern Macedonia deported 82,000 Greek residents, according to official Bulgarian documents in the possession of M. Divaropoulos, sub-prefect of Demirhissar. The sub-prefect was deported by the Bulgarians, and was compelled by them to work in the central bureau of deported persons at Choumla, on account of his knowledge of the Bulgarian language, and he obtained the official documents there.

A very large number of those deported, he says, succumbed to famine, torture and enforced labor. At Kitchevo a number of Greeks were burned alive under the pretext that they had the typhus microbe.

FOUR DEAD, 5 ILL IN HOUSE

Pitiable Condition Revealed by Red Cross Relief Workers

Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 27.—Jersey Shore Red Cross workers carrying medicines and supplies to homes affected by influenza found four dead persons and five others sick in the home of Marshall Freace, on the outskirts of the town Monday.

The house was occupied by the families of Freace and John Herritt. All of the members were ill and were cared for up until last night by a women neighbor, who was then overcome by exhaustion and had to return to her home.

During the night the wives of both Feace and Herritt died, together with a young child of each woman. The two men and other children are so ill they could not summon help. There was no one to attend the dead until the relief workers arrived this morning.

KILLS 400 A DAY

Terrible Conditions in Vienna at Height of Epidemic

Vienna, Nov. 27.—There has been a dimunition in the violence of the influenza epidemic, which resulted at its height in the death of 400 persons daily. The dead were placed on planks, and the bodies covered with wrapping paper and sacks, as no wood was available for making coffins, and no workmen to construct them had wood been obtainable. All the schools of the city have been reopened.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixon Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn., —"About 10 years ago I was," says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place, "I sufferd with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side.

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try som more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommended it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

VIRGINIA NEWS

John Coleman Martin, known in the sporting world as "King Cole," died at the Soldiers' Home at Hampton, Monday. He was born in Westmoreland county, Va., October 2, 1827.

Citizens of Campbell County have subscribed approximately $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of the unknown persons who attacked and murdered Rosa Farmer last week, near Boocock's, Campbell County. County supervisors will offer a reward which will be supplemented by the Governor. In addition to the negro in jail, a soldier at a United States Army camp in Maryland is suspected, and the camp authorities have been asked to hold him.

Two hundred and fifty county and city food administrators gathered in Richmond Monday to outline plans for conservation of supplies after peace is signed and the authority of the state food administrator expires. Efforts also were made to have the various states extend the authority of the food administrators. Benjamin L. Purcell, assistant to the federal food administrator, addressed the conference on "The Food Administration's Legacy to State Food Interests."

Eleven prisoners, including three murderers, escaped from the Newport News jail Monday night and none of them has been apprehended. By using iron supports to pry from the cots, the prisoners succeeded in digging a hole through the concrete floor under one side of the "cage" in which they were confined. Reaching the corridor, they used a knife in removing bricks from the jail wall, through which they crawled into the yard. An eight-foot wall proved an easy obstacle, and as the jail is in the heart of the city, the fugitives mingled with the crowd.

Eleven hoisting machines, capable of handling seventy-five tons of coal an hour each, and six coal barges with a capacity between 1,000 and 1,200 tons each will be added to the port equipment at Hampton Roads, at once, the port and harbor facilities commission announces. Demand for coal by ocean-going vessels is given as the reason for the increase in facilities. Hampton Roads, the commission announced after a survey, has become the most important "turn around" point on the Atlantic seaboard, next to New York.

LABOR WANTS PEACE ENVOYS

American Federation Appoints Committee for Separate Sessions in Paris

Washington, Nov. 27.—That organized labor intends its voice shall be heard at the peace conference of the nations became evident here last night when the appointment of a delegation by the American Federation of Labor to attend an international peace conference at the same time and same place with the international peace conference was disclosed.

Even though labor shall have no place in the council of the nations, its representatives sitting in solemn session nearby the conclave of the nations will voice the purposes of labor in the reorganized world that is to come, and this voice will be heard in the peace conference itself.

The war just won was called a war of industry and all governments bowed to labor as the mighty instruments of victory. This same labor believes that having won the war, it should have part in the discussions which will determine the conditions of the new world to follow.

WHY SUFFER SO?

Why suffer from a bad back, from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizzines and distressing urinary ills? Alexandria people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Could you ask for stronger proof of merit?

Mrs. L. C. Nalls, 540 South Patrick street, Alexandria, says: "I could hardly get about the house, my back felt so weak and sore. When I got down it was almost impossible for me to straighten up. I couldn't rest after I went to bed, my back ached so badly, and in the morning I could hardly dress myself. I felt weak and tired and my kidneys acted irregularly. My head ached, too. I got my first box of Doan's Kidney Pills at C. W. Summer's Drug Store and they did me so much good I got another box. After I had finished that, my back stopped aching and my kidneys haven't caused me any trouble since."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Nalls had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

An International Service Built on Tiny Profits Per Pound

Some industries have been able to get in step with war demands more quickly than others.

In many cases mighty plants have sprung up—but at a prodigious cost.

The packing industry was able to adapt itself to unheard of demands more quickly, perhaps, than any other industry. And this was because the vast equipment of packing plants, refrigerator cars, branch houses, etc., had been gradually developed to its present state of efficiency, so that in the crucial hour it became a mighty international system for war service.

And how had this development taken place?

Not by making vast inroads into the capital wealth of the country, but largely by using, from year to year, a portion of the profits, to provide for expansion.

Swift & Company's profits have always been so tiny, compared with sales, that they have had practically no effect on the price of meat, (amounting to only a fraction of a cent per pound).

And yet the owners of the business have been content with reasonable returns on their capital, and have been able, year after year, to put part of the profits back into the business to provide for its expansion.

These fractions of tiny profits have been repaid to the public many fold in the form of better service, and better and cheaper meat, and made it possible for Swift & Company to meet, undaunted, the sudden cry for meat for overseas.

Could any other method of financing a vital industry involve less hardship to the people of the country? Could there be a better instance of true "profit-sharing" than this return in added usefulness and in national preparedness?

PEACE PARLEY

No Definite Time Limit Set, But Six Weeks Likely Between President's Departure And Return

President Wilson will sail for Europe next week to attend the opening of the peace conference, and expects to be back in Washington soon after the middle of January.

Plans for the President's trip are going steadily ahead, but, beyond the original announcement that he would leave immediately after the convening of Congress on December 2, no details have been made public. However, it was said, authoritatively that the President plans to be back on American soil within six weeks after his ship leaves this side.

There has been no indication when the peace congress will assemble, but the general belief here is that it will convene immediately after the Christmas holidays. The President goes in advance to confer with the Entente statesmen, and it is expected that the bread outline of the treaty will be framed before hand, with a view to its adoption soon after the conference meets.

The President was understood to have discussed his trip with members of his official family at the regular Tuesday Cabinet meeting yesterday, but if his plans were revealed, they were not permitted to become public.

Crazed with fear when flames cut off her escape and her clothing ignited early Monday, Elizabeth Doyle, 55 years old, leaped from the third story window of No. 1929 Callowhill street, Philadelphia, and was instantly killed when she struck the sidewalk.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Conductorettes in Hamburg have refused to give up their jobs, now that peace has come, unless the state guarantees them husbands.

Elimination of the one-half cent a mile extra railroad fare for Pullman transportation, effective December 1, has been decided on by Director General McAdoo.

Emphatic denial of near hostilities between Peru and Chile, as indicated by morning dispatches, is made in a statement issued by the Chilean Embassy in Washington yesterday.

Germany's navy has been ruined for all time, in the opinion of a German lieutenant on one of the warships surrendered to the allies. He says: "Now we have only a dishonorable record. No one will want to serve in a disgraced service."

The Washington food administration's price interpreting committee yesterday voted that under present market conditions 88 cents a dozen for fresh eggs is a fair price. This price, which is an increase of 5 cents a dozen over that of last week, became effective today.

Tomorrow, Thanksgiving Day, will be practically a general holiday in Paris. The government has decided to close all departments and offices, owing to the arrival on that day of King George. Premier Venizelos, of Greece, is expected in Paris from London tomorrow.

One of the first official acts of Chicago's new soldier chief of police, Col. John J. Garrity, was to declare war on anarchists. "There won't be any red flag parades in Chicago, while I am chief of police," he said. "The only flag anybody needs to fly in this city is the Stars and Stripes."

The demand of certain Senators that the treaty of peace should be discussed publicly in open session of the Senate will be one of the big problems which the Senate will have to face when Congress reconvenes. Statements made yesterday by various members of the Senate show that the movement for open discussion of the treaty has assumed no inconsiderable proportions.

Officers and enlisted men of the personnel detachment at the headquarters of any station camp, or post will not be discharged or allowed to resign from the service except under the approval of the War Department, according to an announcement made by General March last night. Officers and men whose services are not required at any particular station or post will be transferred to other places by the Adjutant General, if their services are required.

The War Department has no intention of allowing the American dead to remain in France or on any other foreign battlefield where they fell. Secretary of War Baker said yesterday, in view of reports by cable and otherwise that the dead would remain in France, that there had been no change in the intention of the department. As a matter of fact the most careful measures were taken to identify all graves with a view of removing the bodies soon after the war to resting placesin the United States.

HELD FOR WIFE'S DEATH

Waynesboro, Pa., Youth Claims Girl-Bride Shot Self

Waynesboro, Pa., Nov. 27.—That Mary Thelma Potter, the 15 year old bride, whose body was found on the floor of her parlor with a bullet hole through her heart Saturday afternoon, was killed by her 20 year old husband was the verdict of the coroner's jury.

Potter was locked up in the city jail after the hearing.

The husband, his body writhing and shaking, claimed at the hearing that his wife killed herself after attempting to shoot him. He said she took the small revolver from a nail where hey kept it and began brandishing it in cowboy style, saying, "I'm going to shoot you." He said at first he supposed she was only jesting, but soon she leveled the pistol at him. He declared he stooped quickly an dthat minute the shot rang out and his wife rushed into the parlor and fell over. He could not explain how the revolver got into the pantry, where it was found ater by a neighbor, not how his wife had made her way into the parlor, 35 feet away, before she fell dead. Neither could he explain the absence of any blood stains on the floor of the kitchen or the dining room, through which his wife had to pass to reach the parlor, where her body was found in a pool of blood.

Dr. Croft, who made the autopsy, was the chief witness. He told of teh conditions found at the house when he reached there at 2 o'clock, shortly after the shooting. The young woman was saturated with blood. The bullet had penetrated immediately over her heart and passed through it, lodging in the muscles of the back. Her clothing about the wound was charred and discolored by the fire and smoke from the pistol, he said. In the palm of her left hand was an elongated wound.

R. E. Galbraith, a neighbor, who was the first to reach the Potter home, said Potter came runing over for him, shrieking that his wife had shot herself and had threatened to shoot him. He told that his wife had held the point of the revolver at her heart and said she was going to shoot herself.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Addlesberger, near neighbors, told of the Potters quarreling frequently since they moved into the Tritle avenue house three weeks ago.. They said Mrs. Potter came to their house Saturday night a week ago in a great frenzy, saying her hsuband had the butcher knife and was threatening to kill her.

The wife was only 15 years old when she married Potter seven months ago.

AMERICAN RAILWAY EXPRESS OFFICIALS JOIN WITH COUNCIL OF DEFENSE IN PLEA FOR EARLY CHRISTMAS SHOPPING.

(Suggest December 10th as Final Shipping Date.)

Vice-President D. S. Elliott, in charge of traffic fo rthe American Railway Express Company, has informed all operating officials and agents of the express organization throughout the United States, that it is the purpose of the company to uphold in every way the request of the Council of Defense that Christmas express shipments be started on their way by December 5th.

A concerted effort will be made in every city and town of the country by the 125,000 express employes, to emphasize the importance of preventing any possible congestion of transportation facilities during these critical times. Although the express facilities are very elastic, so much of the equipment is now used strictly for war purposes, that all gift shipments for long bistance travel should be delivered to the express company not later than December 5th, and for short hauls not later than December 10th. This will allow ample time for sorting and delivering before Christmas Day.

"We wish to emphasize strongly," said Mr. Elliott, "the point raised by the Council of National Defense, that nothing should be forwarded, which will interfere with essential war business. Just now the movement of equipment and supplies for the Overseas Forces is heavy and exacting, and there should be no domestic burden paced upon transportation which would tend to lessen the delivery of war shipments.

"Also during winter months there is a tremendous movement of foodstuffs to all of the larger cities. These foodstuffs are perishable and next to war shipments must be given first consideration.

"We are asking our men everywhere to bring these points before our patrons, and to emphasize more strongly the never the vital importance of proper packing and legible marking. We are asking them to refuse all shipments which are not packed strongly enough to reach their destination with ordinary handling, and to insist that the address of the sender and of the consignee be placed on a card and enclosed inside the package."

LARGE quantities of SHINOLA are purchased by the Government to be sold to the Soldiers and Sailors.

We aim to make SHINOLA cost the men serving their country and the public back of the men, as little as possible.

War conditions turn men's heads to profit making. We believe friends and users are more valuable than the profit of the moment. That is why you can buy SHINOLA at the same price as always.
